LOCAL COMMUNITY CRIME PREVENTION RESOURCES

OHIO

This directory was compiled by the National Criminal Justice Reference Service to provide you with information about community crime prevention programs and resources within your State. These local agencies and programs are familiar with local resources and problems and should be considered a beginning for your own crime prevention efforts. The Scope Notes on the following pages explain the terms and abbreviations used to describe these programs.

The data are based on a survey of known crime prevention programs conducted between January and May of 1979 and should not be interpreted as an endorsement of the programs or policies of these organizations by the U.S. Department of Justice. Although every effort was made to identify all local programs, it is inevitable that some have inadvertently been excluded. Please contact NCJRS-Crime Prevention Program if you know of additional programs in your State that should be included.
